

2009-10 Fisheries & Wildlife Graduate Scholarships for currently enrolled students

Aquatic

Neil Armantrout Graduate Fellowship, awarded to a graduate student conducting research on wild salmon.

H. Richard Carlson Memorial Scholarship, awarded to a graduate student with research emphasis in marine fisheries biology.

Hugo Krueger Graduate Research Award in Fish Physiology, awarded to a graduate student performing fish physiology research. Nominations by faculty.

McLoughlin Chapter of the NW Steelheaders Scholarship, full-time graduate student working on salmonid ecology and management.

Oregon Council Federation of Fly Fishers Scholarship, two awards to graduate students researching native fishes of interest to the Oregon Council.

Sunriver Anglers Club Scholarship, two awards to graduate students conducting research on fish or habitat ecology in Eastern Oregon. Preference to Oregon residents.

Washington County Flyfishers, awarded to a senior or graduate student conducting research on freshwater salmonid ecology and management.

Terrestrial

David B. and Georgia Leupold Marshall Wildlife Graduate Scholarship, fulltime graduate student working on wildlife management of special interest or concern.

Munson Wildlife Graduate Scholarship, awarded to a wildlife graduate student with an interest in interdisciplinary natural resources management and research. May be used for travel, supplies, etc.

General

Coombs-Simpson Memorial Scholarship, awarded to a female graduate student for leadership and service to university and community. Nominations by graduate students.

Santiam Fish and Game Association Endowed Scholarship Fund – New in 2008. First preference will be given to Linn or Benton County residents, second preference to students who are residents of any county in Oregon.

Thomas G. Scott Achievement Award: multiple awards to outstanding M.S. students; and outstanding Ph.D. students; to recognize research potential in graduate students majoring in Fisheries and Wildlife.

Thomas G. Scott Grant for Publication, multiple awards to support publication costs given per year. All students and faculty in the Department of Fisheries & Wildlife are eligible to apply. Apply anytime. See Nancy for details.

Charles E. Warren Award for Ecology and Sustainable Societies, preference given to students whose research integrates ecology, political economy, and environmental justice in the quest for sustainable relationships between communities and their natural resources.

Can be used for Travel

Mastin Graduate Student Fund, several awards to support research or travel for graduate students when no other funds are available. Can apply anytime. See Nancy for details.

Munson Wildlife Graduate Scholarship, awarded to a graduate student with an interest in interdisciplinary natural resources management and research. May be used for travel, supplies, etc.

Ted Thorgaard Student Research Fund, awarded to an undergraduate or graduate student conducting research in conservation biology. May be used for travel, supplies, or other expenses.

Notices will go out in early January. Unless stated otherwise, deadline for applications and nominations are due February 1, 2010. For more information contact Nancy Allen, Nash Hall 104F, 737-1941, nancy.allen@oregonstate.edu.